INSTRUCTIONS

WHO MUST OBTAIN A PERMIT?

The regulation of weighing and measuring devices and establishments is found in Neb. Rev. Stat. §§89-187 through 89-1,103.

Every person who operates a weighing and measuring establishment in the state of Nebraska shall hold a valid permit from the Nebraska Department of Agriculture. This is a one-time permit which only needs to be updated if there is a change in device location or ownership. If the permit holder has more than one location with commercial weighing and measuring devices, he or she shall have a permit for each location (§89-187.01).

A weighing and measuring establishment means any location with one or more commercial weighing and measuring devices or any operation which employs a weighing and measuring device which is mobile.

Commercial weighing and measuring device means any weighing and measuring device used or employed in commerce in a) establishing the size, quantity, extent, area, or measurement of any commodity sold, offered, or submitted for hire; b) computing any basic charge or payment for services rendered on the basis of weight, measure, or count; or c) establishing any eligibility for any award. A commercial weighing and measuring device shall also include any accessory attached to, or used in connection with a commercial weighing or measuring device when such accessory is so designed or installed that its operation affects or may affect the accuracy of the device.

WHEN TO FILE?

The weighing and measuring establishment permit is due for all existing establishments prior to August 1, 1992. Any establishment beginning after such date shall obtain a permit prior to the use of any commercial weighing and measuring device at such location. Changes should be reported to the Nebraska Department of Agriculture as changes to the information on the application occur.

WHERE TO FILE?

This application and a $5 application fee are to be mailed to the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, Division of Weights and Measures, P.O. Box 94757, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509.
